Historical Roots:
The story of The Best
Candle in America

Perhaps the greatest contribution a company can make is to remain loyal to the truths from which it was founded. At no other time has Root been more proud to be an American company that has consistently produced a superior product, for over 140 years unequalled to any in the world. Now in its fifth generation, the Root family continues to extol the virtues of honesty, integrity and plain old hard work, that exemplifies the company. Amos Ives Root wrote in 1917, "I looked up at the stars and stripes that were floating in the wind from the flag pole over our company and said, The A.I. Root Company, God permitting, will last for years after A.I. Root himself, is gone".
